*Oh, Red and Black, dear Red and Black,
Our hearts are true to you.
On field and track we'll never lack,
And win thee honors, too.
From dear Spokane, through every land,
The name of our school cry.
We're through and through North Siders true,
North Central High.*

And so . . . we dedicate
this book to you . . .
The Spirit of the Red and Black!

A spirit that will, year after year, inspire each new student and serve to remind alumni the world over of the spirit of the Red and Black which pervades the halls of NC—a never-changing, ever-living inspiration.

To represent this spirit, the totem has been chosen as this year's symbol, representative of the Indian, our mascot.

The figures of the totem pole stood for the Indian himself, his life, his ideals, his tribe. And as in the shadows of the totem, he fulfilled his life, so through the shadows on the division pages are portrayed the everyday life of those at North Central.

The Indian word for the totem means "the pole that holds up the sky!"

. . . North Central, our pole that holds up the sky, has for four years sheltered us under its wing. So . . . to the eagles, the maidens, warriors and last, but not least, to the dear Red and Black, we dedicate this book.

Yes, truly . . . "Our hearts are true to you!"

Wisdom was in the White Eagle to watch and guard the whole world. Life was in the White Eagle to grow food and to give life to the people who were to come. Wisdom is also in those who teach us and enrich our lives.

The close of another successful year brings an awareness of lost or found opportunities. We can retrace our steps in space but not in time. We can move quickly or slowly, or not at all if we wish, but no one can regulate the flow of time. Time rolls on at the same even, uncontrollable rate for all of us.

This 1960 Tamarack carries a story marking the beginning of the second half of a century of progress for North Central High School. It has been a good year, one filled with accomplishments of which we are proud.

Time marches on, and for you who graduate, college is an opportunity ahead. Habit simplifies the movements required to achieve given results, makes them more accurate and diminishes fatigue. There is no habit more important to the college student than that of budgeting his resources. Time is one of your greatest resources. May you always be proud of your achievements.

William C. Sorenson
Superintendent of Schools

Mr. William C. Sorenson,
Superintendent of Schools.

Principal John P. Rodkey

Now that it has ended . . .

The end of the year has come at last! With it have come the joys of anticipation for a summer of fun! Also has come the feeling of something worthwhile accomplished . . . or a feeling of something left undone.

To you who are leaving our family circle, we send our best wishes for many years of happiness as you assume the responsibilities of greater tasks, whether they be college, vocational training, employment, or family. It was pleasant to have known you these short years. Your absence will be keenly felt.

To you who remain, we anticipate your conscientious effort based upon a realization of the good things your community and your school desire for you.

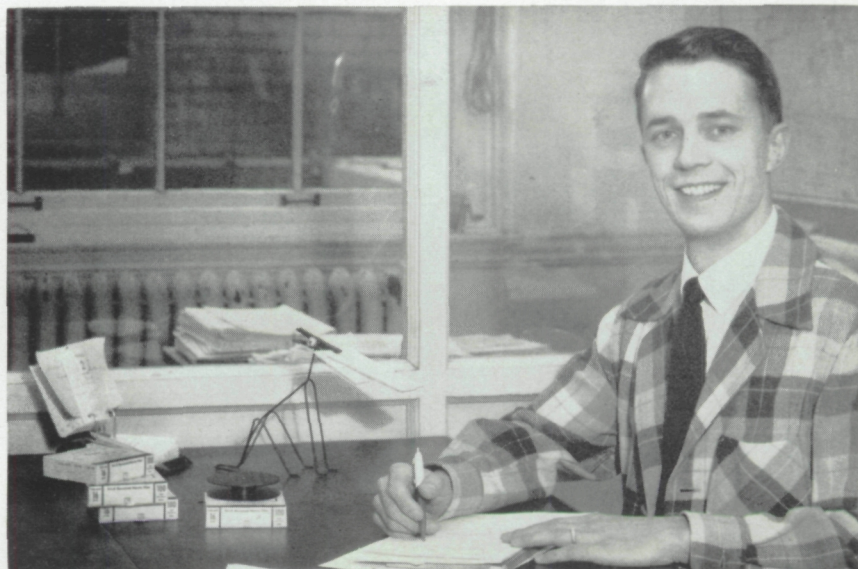

Before we forget the accomplishments or frustrations of the past year, perhaps we should look again at the goals we have set for the future, goals which demand planning and preparation, that require our best effort, and goals that may change with new interests gained from experiences and learning. One of the basic facts of growth is this: THERE IS NO PROGRESS WITHOUT EVALUATION.

We express our deepest thanks for your co-operation and spirit during 1959-1960. You are proving that you are equal to the task of responsibility so vital to our country's need. May your summer be most enjoyable, and may it awaken in you new challenges for the future!

John P. Rodkey

THE VP . . .

The main duty of the Dean of Boys and the Dean of Girls is to encourage boys and girls to help themselves. This arduous task extends deeply into the areas of personal, vocational and educational problems.

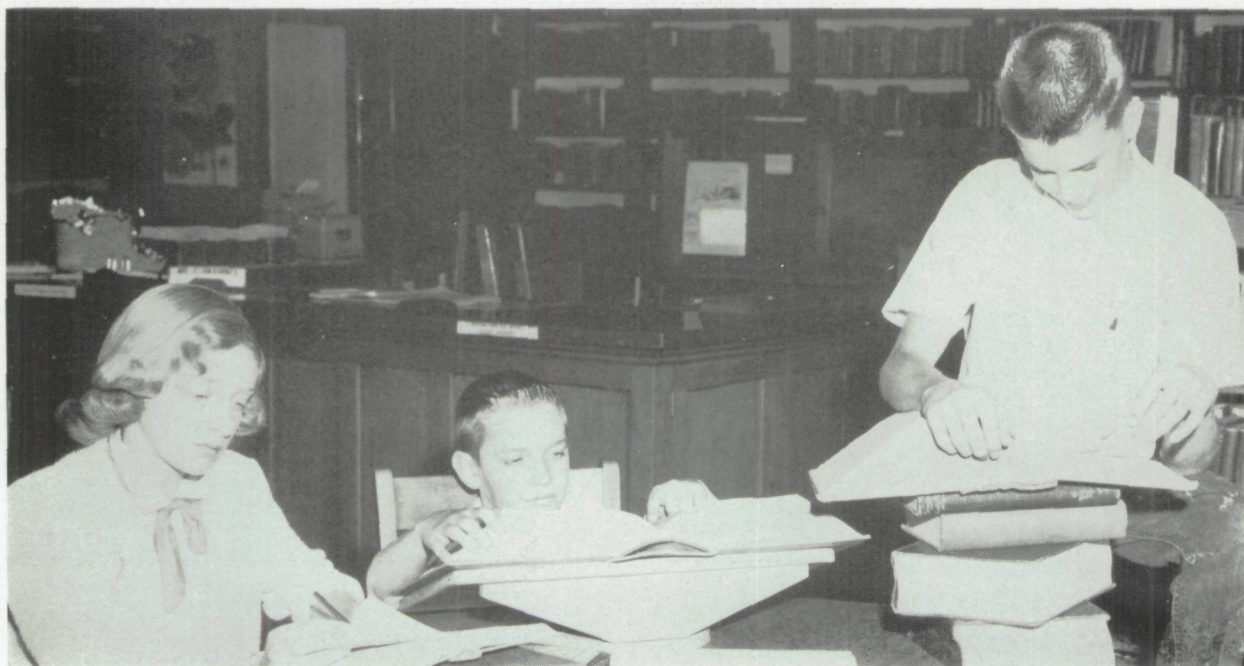

Maintaining a job of great responsibility, the vice-principal is the executive officer of the school. He is responsible to the principal for the smooth and efficient operation of the school, for assisting the staff in matters of student control and procedures, and for evaluation of permanent records of candidates graduation. Work permits and early dismissals are also issued.

AND THE DEANS

Miss Patricia Damon, Dean of Girls, and Kenneth Myhre, Dean of Boys, seem to be enjoying themselves as they enroll a new student.

Either the books are pretty big this year or the freshmen are getting smaller as Jim Oberst is practically hidden behind the dictionary, with Linda Kachinsky and Terry Merriman making good use of the reading guides.

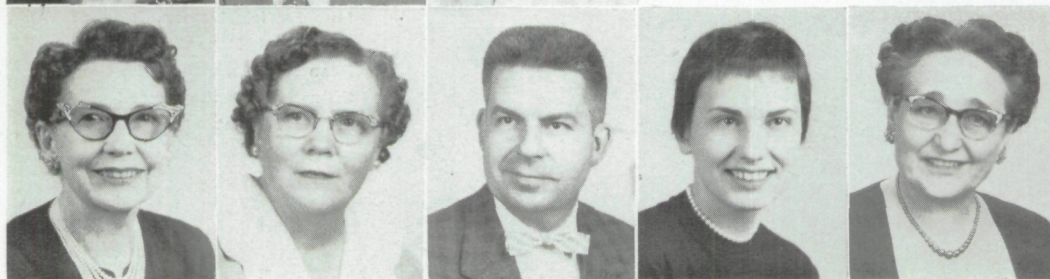

The goal of the English program is to provide the students with an effective means of verbal communication. In reading, the objective is to develop sufficient speed and skill to be able to comprehend the written ideas of others; in writing, to develop a clear and forceful style; in speaking, to acquire the ability to organize thoughts and convey them logically and clearly; and in listening, to appreciate and evaluate the spoken word.

English I-VI are basic courses offered for the first three years of high school and are required of all students. Here emphasis is placed on spelling, vocabulary, fundamentals of correct speech and written composition, and instruction in techniques of reading and interpretation. Materials used are selected to emphasize the basic American ideal. Democracy is presented as the finest way of life yet discovered.

A student may also select courses from senior literature, senior composition, vocabulary, debate, journalism, speech, and dramatics. The first three of these are a necessity for the college-bound student, but for all students they contribute to the reaching of the important goal of effective verbal communication.

MATHEMATICS

"The science of pure mathematics, in its modern developments, may claim to be the most original creation of the human spirit." —A. N. Whitehead

Colleges and universities are placing more emphasis on mathematics by raising their standards of requirement in nearly all fields of education. In addition to required freshman mathematics, higher courses such as geometry 1 and 2, algebra 3 and 4, and trigonometry and analysis for seniors are offered.

P. H. Nygaard, department head, is known nationally for his magazine articles on mathematics.

As John Peters and Ron Tonani solve a problem, Henry Burger assists Linda Randall.

SCIENCE

Both student and teacher are challenged by the rapid advance the world has taken and is taking in science.

One year of laboratory science above the ninth grade is required for high school graduation. General science is a special course for freshmen only. Biology, chemistry, physics, geology and photography are the other science courses.

Madeline Carroll, librarian, and Lillian Barnes, assistant, are vital to the students at North Central. Many students use the library every day for reports. Miss Carroll and Mrs. Barnes give appreciated help to numerous students.

This is the way it's done, says Wayne Duke to Jim Hanley.

"Comment vous appelez-vous?" asks Joseph Trembley, French teacher, as Dawn Hopkins, Meredith Ault, Alice Hendricks and Larry Cowley look on in question.

The aim of the foreign language courses is the development of the ability to understand, speak, read, and write the language studied.

In the past few years, North Central students have shown a rapidly increasing interest in foreign languages, especially the modern languages. This is shown by the addition of French to Latin and Spanish, which were already offered. A thriving extra-curricular class in Russian is another indication that modern languages are gaining in popularity. Beginning German may be offered next fall if there is enough demand.

FOREIGN LANGUAGES

Bottom row: Walter H. Mayer, Spanish; Carol Newett, Latin; Genevieve Oppen, Spanish; Joseph C. Tremblay, French.

Typing busily in the front row are Douglas Lentz and Linda Lenard as typing instructor A. A. Manfred looks on. Typing in the back of the room are Sue Mueller, Suzie Anderson and Larry Judd.

In preparation for careers in the business world, the business education department offers two-year courses in stenography, bookkeeping, and typing, and a one-year course in office practice. Not only are these courses helpful in laying a foundation for a career in business, but they also provide useful information for all walks of life.

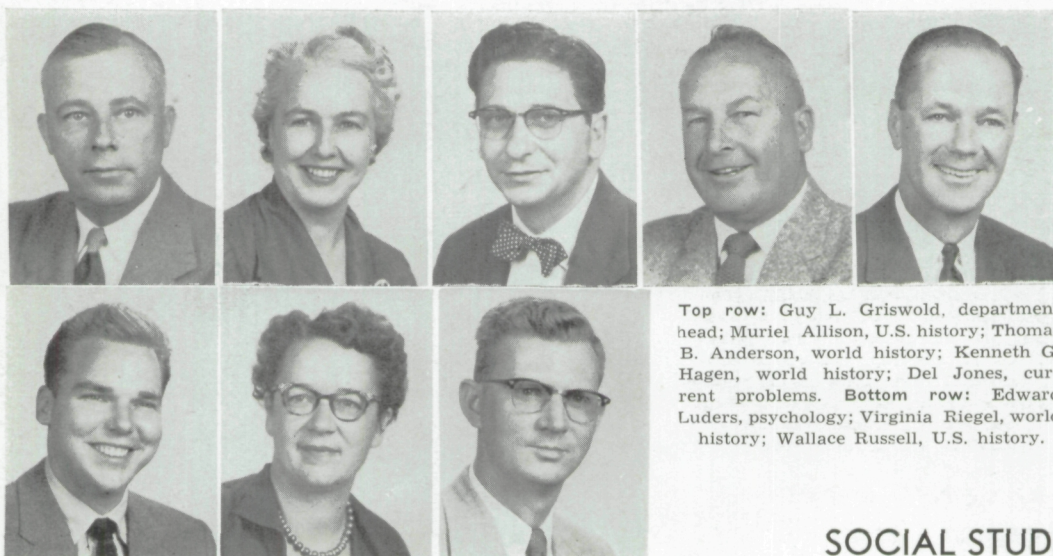

It is important that students arrange enrollment in business education courses in the latter semesters of their school years so that they will not lose any of the skills acquired in these subjects.

SOCIAL STUDIES

In today's world of tremendous social, political, and economic unrest a great conflict has ensued over what type of governmental system best provides the material, moral, and spiritual development of the individual. This conflict is primarily one of ideas and ideals, and it is the objective of the social studies department to present both the historical and contemporary developments of man's search for a better life. By offering a well-balanced program of courses, including: World, Northwest and United States history, economics, social psychology, current problems and geography, the social studies department attempts to fulfill its obligations to today's youth.

Patty Person and Wilson Draper explain part of the ever-expanding world problems as Del Jones, teacher, Deanna Sylte and Jim Warner pay close attention.

Top row: Elizabeth Killingsworth, home-making department head; Helen I. Beaver, clothing; Patricia Brown, social relations; Jane McLeod, clothing; George Theodorsen, industrial arts department head. Bottom row: Vern R. Broadwell, wood shop; Leonard F. Graham, electronics; Alvin T. Olson, auto shop.

HOMEMAKING AND INDUSTRIAL ARTS

Homemaking classes strive to aid in the developing of skills and interests for the homemaker of tomorrow. To develop an understanding and appreciation for abundant living as family and community members in an ever-changing society is important.

Industrial arts benefits students interested in work in the trades as well as students interested in college. Drafting is especially essential to would-be engineers.

The various departments of industrial arts are: Drafting, including mechanical drawing, architectural drawing, and engineering drawing, metal shop, electronics, auto mechanics, and plastics.

Watching and assisting Frank Nichols under the car are All Hill, Dan Zabel and Larry Basinger.

"DIG THAT COOL COMBO" as band members Gene Sawyer, drummer; Norman Webster, clarinet; Eddie Doyle, trumpet; Terry Merriman; Dwayne Mizoguchi, trumpet; Stan Bronowski, guitar; and Gabe Lapano, pianist, hit the down beat!

The ability to fully appreciate and understand the basis and art of all types of music is cultured in the department of music. For this reason, girls were given the opportunity to enroll in our concert and marching bands, and are participating with enthusiasm.

The physical education department is an increasingly important part of school life. Not only does it keep the student physically fit, but develops good sportsmanship. Both boys and girls are given the chance to participate in a wide field of activities including basketball, tennis, golf, and many others.

MUSIC AND PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Top row: Barbara Simpson, girls' physical education department head; Joan L. Voligny, girls' physical education; Gerald M. Stannard, boys' physical education department head. Bottom row: David L. Holmes, football coach; William M. Diedrick, boys' physical education; A. G. Tiemann, music department head; James G. Simmons, choral groups.

William MacArthur, art director, shows Charles Kaufman and Frances Romano the correct way to draw their subjects.

Learning and appreciating basic principles of design and color are important factors to a student of art seeking a specialized phase of this field. The school nurse is an important part of the school in seeing that our students are properly advised concerning their health. Providing materials essential for the everyday needs of students, selling articles for school organizations, and keeping a complete record of books are the functions of the bookroom attendants. The office staff is kept continually busy in maintaining records of activities, grades, and attendance for students and graduates of North Central.

ART, NURSE, BOOKROOM AND OFFICE STAFF

Cafeteria Workers

The cafeteria personnel is largely responsible for the smooth-running lunch periods and cheerful atmosphere. The aim of the cooks is to serve good, nourishing food at low prices.

The staff has six members, including a manager, two cooks, a baker, a snack-bar manager and a salad lady. Besides the regular personnel there are students who work as cashiers, dishwashers and milk sellers. A complete lunch is provided as well as an a la carte counter.

Left to Right: Ruby Wiley, Corinne Hirst, Earl Schneider, Irene Minaker, Jack Albright

The custodial staff is on the job the year around with only a three-week vacation for each member. The custodians are responsible for the upkeep and well-being of the North Central buildings and grounds.

There are ten members on the staff, with Art Baker heading the list as chief custodian. The duties of the custodians range from those of being night watchmen to replacing burned-out lights, cleaning the swimming pool, taking care of the furnaces and cleaning the building inside and out.

SENIOR CON — Lyle Carstens as Schroeder captivates Lucy (Gerry Featherly) with his playing of a Beethoven concerto. Violet, played by Pat Callahan, listens with sucker in hand while Patty (Ginny Brookman) takes care of Snoopy.

Whew! We made it!

This was the most frequently used saying on April 24, 1959, as the juniors of '59 were the first class to organize and have a class function.

Suspended from the ceiling were coins which reflected the lights in the room. The bubbling of the fountain could be heard and even in the pictures that were being taken, the theme "Three Coins in a Fountain" was carried out by a fountain mural as a background.

SENIOR PROM — The wonderful, once-in-a-lifetime moment is captured as Mike Szymczak helps Karen Crosbie with her corsage.

The dance was solely a student effort with Mrs. Patricia Brown and Mrs. Helen Stockdale advising.

Getting senior activities off to a good start was the Senior Con, with "This Is Your Life—Charlie Brown" headlining the show.

After rehearsals and more rehearsals, the performances took place on March 31 for the parents' reception and the grand finale convocation April 1.

Going from laughter and confusion to enchanting music and lustrous surrounding, the Senior Prom of 1960 took form on the evening of May 28.

SENIOR DRESS-UP DAY — Byron Burtness, Darrell Matthews, Vicki Read, Sandee Laughlin and Don Jones are completely bushed after spending a tiring day all dressed up in suits and heels.

Just as the good fairy waved her magic wand and turned Cinderella into a charming princess, so were all the senior class students of everyday attire turned into ladies and gentlemen of the social world.

June 2, ah, that was the day! A combination, that's what it was—Dress-Up Day and the Senior Breakfast.

Everyone was dressed up in the gayest of spring fashions and the aroma of bacon and eggs could be smelled throughout the hotel. To top off the fine menu, the entertainment and speakers were superb.

SENIOR BREAKFAST — Colleen Wood pours for Carrie Unger as Gary Erickson seats Sue Doherty and Christy Fackenthall looks on.

As all good things must come to an end, so must our high school career. With fond farewells in our hearts, the Senior Class of 1960 moved to the Coliseum for Commencement Services, Sunday, June 5, at 4 p.m.

Robed in the traditional caps and gowns the seniors received their diplomas. To the strains of Olivadoti's "Homage to Youth," the seniors silently paid their last tribute to North Central High School—their Alma Mater.

Four things a man must learn to do if he would keep his record true:

*To think without confusion clearly;
To trust his fellow-men sincerely;
To act with honest motives purely;
To trust in God and heaven securely.*

—HENRY VAN DYKE

Classes

Mighty was the God of Creation, holder of all powers. A mind he gave to man, to be above the creatures of the earth. It must be nurtured, the mind, filled with all knowledge. To gain knowledge of all is the task of the youth.

The usual primping, yawning and talking are carried on while the photographer adjusts the camera.

Activities

Beaver brought the fire to people. From the pines he swiftly brought it, taught the people how to use it, how to make a home and warm it . . . So activities strengthen the student—show him how to work with others, how to use his time of leisure.

The annual get-acquainted mixer, the Papoose Pow Wow, was held early in September. Because of the recently refinished gym floor, the mixer took the form of a sock hop.

NC's daring young gals grabbed their favorite Lil' Abners and dragged them off to the Sadie Hawkins dance. Dogpatch-style costumes added color to this event, and prizes for the best costumes were given.

"Hurry, Hurry, Hurry! Step right up and buy your ticket to the spectacular, colossal NC carnival." These words could be heard above the roar of excitement from hundreds of students and parents alike who were anxiously awaiting the opening of the first carnival sponsored by the fall Associated Student body. Needless, to say this was the biggest project undertaken by these officers.

Prizes, games and booths were furnished through a local novelty shop. School clubs, including the Federation and the League, participated in this gala event by operating such booths as the ring toss, fish pond, darts, cotton candy, and spin and win.

The student body officers and faculty advisers controlled the distribution of the money throughout the clubs according to the number of tickets taken in, population and budget of the club. This project was a huge success and will be continued in the future.

A little happiness was brought into the home of a needy family at Thanksgiving time, and again at Christmas time because money or canned food had been collected in homerooms for these projects.

The reverence of the age-old Christmas story was related in the religious con at Christmas. ASB officers and senators portrayed the familiar parts and thus closed the fall semester's activities.

The House of Representatives and the Senate make up the student governing bodies. Each homeroom selects one student to represent them in House meeting. The House is presided over by the ASB president. The Senate consists of the Federation and League presidents and two members, one boy and one girl, from each class. The ASB vice-president is in charge of the Senate.

Each body helps to settle and discuss problems of the student government. Much time was spent this year in rewriting and bringing the constitution up to date. An important decision was made when both the House and Senate passed a bill placing ASB officers on a yearly basis. This procedure will go into effect next fall.

Standing committees and their chairmen are selected each semester with the approval of the Senate. These committees include: Dance committee, which arranges and organizes all ASB dances; the election commission, which plans the election procedure; con and candidate nominations; the honors board, which determines the number of awards to be given out; the con scheduling committee which schedules ASB cons, and the scholarship committee which makes college information available to interested seniors, as well as underclassmen.

A lonely, poverty-stricken Korean war orphan, Kwak Yong In, was adopted six years ago by the ASB. Thanks to their support each month, Kwak is now able to enjoy a few of the privileges so many of us take for granted, such as food, clothing and education. A benefit dance was held in May for further funds for this endeavor.

Spring activities included the Shamrock Shuffle, a mixer, the ASB-sponsored basketball and spring sports' banquet, and a 46-foot trophy case was donated to the school as a school improvement project.

Fall Senators

Boys' and Girls' State Representatives: John Goeller, Betty Sears, Nick Frucci.

The Senate, which consists of one boy and one girl from each class level, conducts its meetings with the ASB officers every Tuesday, second period. Discussing new projects and amending the ASB constitution were among the projects of this year's Senators. Chosen by popular vote from the various classes, the Senators are sworn into office along with the ASB officers in an installation ceremony before the student body.

"Being chosen to represent North Central at Girls' State was a very great honor," replied Betty Sears in an interview. Girls' State was held on the campus of Central Washington College of Education for one week in June. Three hundred and fifty girls from various sections of the state attended this organization. City, county and state government was studied, as well as the basic legislature, senate and house of representatives. Sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary, girls were chosen on the basis of their leadership, citizenship and scholastic ability.

Also in June was Boys' State at Pacific Lutheran college in Tacoma. Attended by seniors John Goeller and Nick Frucci, the group learned the fundamentals of United States government. Two U. S. Senators and a representative from West Point military academy were general speakers. The boys made up their own state, called the Evergreen state, with two political parties and justices.

This year's Twinlow counselors were Edward Gill and Miss Patricia Damon. Representing North Central were Nancy Frank and Phil Stohs. Held at Twin Lakes, Idaho, from August 16 to 24, this group also studied student government and leadership. They attended classes in government, were given lectures and enjoyed the comforts of a hot August sun.

ASB

Students who serve on ASB committees plan many of the pleasurable functions of the school. The convocation committee plans and schedules most of the ASB convocations. Members of the dance committee make all necessary dance arrangements.

ASB Election Committees of the fall and spring semester were: Karen Moore, fall chairman, Mike Tornow, Nancy Hoering, Julie Warfield, spring co-chairmen, Nancy Johnson and Carol Frucci.

The election committee schedules primary and final elections, sets deadlines for the filing of petitions, accepts nominations from the House, and plans installations. The committee of finance superintends a vital, if not so pleasurable, part of school life.

Committees

ASB finances were taken care of by: Phill Stohs, Judy Bizier, Cathie Deminter and Meg Stone.

Honors Board members: Joan Huellemann, Cala Chilton, Karen Crosbie, Bob Morig, Marty Seedorf, Margy Flint and Lavaughn Stephens.

ASB

Rules by which awards are presented to North Central students are always subject to honors board discussion. The committee in charge of publicity tries to keep students informed on school events worthy of recognition.

Arranging the display on the scholarship bulletin board are committee members Alice Bacon, Linda Ayers, fall chairman, Carol Ramage, spring chairman, Fran Forrey and Alice Carnahan.

The school and grounds committee's job is to keep the outside appearance of North Central clean and free of debris. The scholarship committee keeps many folders containing information on various plans available to students seeking aid.

Committees

Getting ready to clean the school are Ralph Jones, fall chairman, Linda Headstrom, Karen Coleman and Rick Stern, committee members.

League projects began this year with the Big and Little Sister party in September, and this year's winner of the sixth annual Big Sister award was Mary Preston, senior.

Central Council, which is composed of one representative from each homeroom and the League officers, plans and carries out all activities and projects for the semester. Among these projects were a Central Council Get-Acquainted Pizza party, the annual Dad and Daughter banquet, and sponsorship of a pep convocation in October. A Thanksgiving time when students brought canned food. The traditional Santa Claus pictures were taken to raise money and food for Christmas needy families.

Fall projects were brought to a close with the Cupid's Caper mixer.

The installation of officers launched the spring semester. To start the league rolling, the annual courtesy week was held. Spring was personally ushered in at the Cotton Day Mixer, "The Parasol Twirl." The Mother's Tea, Simplicity Style Show, pancake feed, get-acquainted party, awards convocation, a series of Coke parties called "Teen-Talks" and co-sponsorship with the Federation of co-recreation night and vocational conferences highlighted the semester. A white shirt cheering section was organized to stress school spirit. Thus another prosperous year drew to a close, but the league's ideals of honor, service and loyalty will continue.

Edward Luders was appointed head of the Boys' Federation at North Central in October by John P. Rodkey, principal. Thus the Fed began its year after more than a month's delay.

Major activities during the year included a fall-semester mixer called "The Frosty Frolic," vocational conference, two co-recreation nights and and a spring mixer.

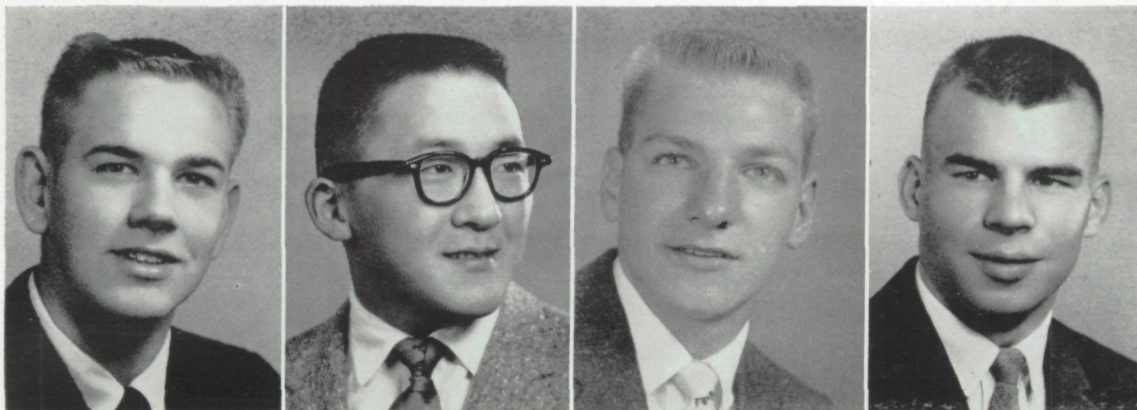

The Archie Buckley Inspirational Award, an annual presentation, went to Mike Szymczak of North Central's championship football squad.

Boys'

Fall co-recreation was presented by both the Fed and the League. In the spring the Fed gave a "co-rec" night for the juniors and seniors while the girls gave one for freshmen and sophomores.

Federation

Both mixers were good money-raisers for the federation. The vocational program was a big asset to students as they learned about the various fields of work. Each student went to two sessions. Nick Frucci and Ginger Eacho were co-chairmen of the vocational event.

Other projects the Federation planned were a novice track meet, swim meet, boys' stag and intramural basketball after the regular season. Federation representatives met to plan the activities and committees were set up from the group.

Rudy Werle goes over some of the plans for the Boys' Federation with the new adviser, Ed Luders.

Tamarack

"Lollypops! Buy your lollypops! Help lick Rogers and Shadle!" This was a frequent cry from the Tamarack staff as they they sold lollypops to help support the yearbook.

Hardworking and hurried are two words that could be used to describe the staff. First a "dummy," which includes a complete layout of pictures and copy, must be prepared. This was done by the three top editors, Terry Palmer, Carrie Unger and Gary Carpenter.

After that there were a host of things to be done—checking and more checking, writing, typing, pasting, mounting, cutting and clipping. Dozens of pictures must be taken. These were done under the direction of Orval Theisen by Larry Fifield and Dave Hunter with the help of the photography class. Art Lacey is the professional photographer.

Julie Warfield and Georganne Jackman were in charge of the advertising which helped

The cover was designed by Mardell Jacobson. Gerry Featherly, Donna DeChenne, Annette Van Dyke and Judy Bizier wrote copy. Judy Anderson and Gail Gladder worked on the big job of indexing.

Gary Carpenter and Marty Seedorf wrote copy for the boys' sports section while Janet Hopper and Karen Coleman worked on the homeroom section. Karen Moore directed the work on the club section. Other jobs done by the staff are the school life and activities sections.

The printing was done under the direction of Donald Townsend, and the art layout was planned by William MacArthur and art students, Gloria LaVine and Mike Sandgren.

The North

"Where is that story?" is a common cry among the editors of The News staff. Other common laments are, "What can I write for my feature?" and "How can I ever get all these stories in on time?"

The News staff has a tremendous responsibility to get The News to press on time. The staff writes and edits copy, makes up the pages and reads galley and page proofs. Donald A. Townsend directs the printing of the paper in the print shop of the Technical and Vocational School.

For the past 24 years, both the Columbia Scholastic Press Association and the National Scholastic Press Association have awarded The News highest honors. Joseph Tremblay is publications adviser for The News and ad staffs.

Members of The News staff are chosen from the beginning journalism class by Mr. Tremblay. In the beginning journalism class, the students learn the fundamentals of writing and proofreading copy. They also supplement the copy written by The News staff with copy which they have written.

The mailing and circulation staffs are an important part of any school paper. This job requires much outside work before and after school.

Advertising also plays an important role in The News. The duties of this staff are to solicit ads and to prepare copy.

Outstanding writers on The News staff are selected for membership in Quill and Scroll, international honor society for high school journalists. Each semester four members of the staff are elected to the Spokane Junior Press club.

For the first time in the history of The News, a person has held the position of editor-in-chief for two semesters in a row—Gary Carpenter has held this position all year.

"To give its members a wider knowledge of books in reading and to assist the librarian in increasing the library's efficiency," is the purpose of Amores Librorum. Any boy or girl on the honor roll who passes an entrance exam consisting of questions on books, authors and current events and has an interest in books is eligible for membership.

With Linda Randall and Janice Baker serving as fall and spring presidents, respectively, the members sold novels and French, English and Spanish dictionaries in pocket-book size as their major money-raising project. In addition, they took part in the school carnival and held a fall bake sale.

A joint Coke party with another school, a potluck dinner and an open house were activities of the club throughout the year.

The dolphin, the ballet leg, the whale and the kip are just a few of the many swimming techniques demonstrated by Aquettes swimming club during their annual water performance. Each year the club demonstrates its knowledge of synchronized swimming in the form of a water show. Colorful costumes and beautiful girls, gliding with precision movements, are the high lights of this exhibition.

A tryout is held in the early fall of each year, and the girls are chosen for membership on the point system after demonstrating their skills in the water. The club requires all its members to maintain a "C" average.

Aquettes sponsored the Fish Throw booth at the carnival as one of their fund-raising projects and furnished food for a needy family at Christmas.

Mrs. Stipe is faculty adviser, and Mrs. Bess Milton is Red Cross swimming instructor.

Art Club

Darrell Larson and Mardell Jacobson look to Mike Sandgren for approval.

All students holding a major or minor in the art department and maintaining a B average in this course and a C average in the rest of their program are eligible to seek membership in the Art Club.

The purpose of this organization is to promote interest in fine arts.

The group used unusual "Dogpatch atmosphere" portraits for the annual Sadie Hawkins Dance.

Other projects of the club included sponsoring an all-city meeting of Art Clubs at which objectives and activities of the clubs were discussed and participating in the ASB Carnival.

Club members were honored to have as a guest at a November meeting, Miss Opal Frackenstone of the art department of the Eastern Washington College of Education, who showed slides and spoke on the arts of Mexico.

With Christian fun and fellowship as the objects of the weekly Three C's meetings, the club sponsors internationally known speakers and musicians, skits, local musical talent, films and group singing.

High light of the year is the city-wide "Hadie Sawkins" party, sponsored by the North Central club. Also widely attended are the formal Lilac Time banquet and the "Hayloft Havoc."

Providing music and devotional speakers for musicales and skatespirations on the third Sundays and Mondays, respectively, of each month is a new activity of the Bible clubs of the area. Fifteen clubs in the Spokane area also participate in the regular Saturday evening programs of Youth for Christ.

Membership in the North Central Three C's is open to all interested students with consistent attendance as the main requirement. Wallace Russell, history teacher, serves as adviser of the club.

Putting the old shine on a few trophies are: clockwise, Louise Erickson, Judy Reuss, Janet Piper and Cathy Prihar.

Commercial Club

Donating the new menu board in the cafeteria was the main service project of the year for Commercial Club. The members also made 85 corsages for both men and women in a nursing home at Christmas time. Selling candy was their money-making project for the year, in addition to managing the goldfish booth at the school carnival.

Spring projects included polishing the trophies on the first floor, which is an annual event followed by a potluck dinner and a sleighing party. Sixteen new members were taken into the club at the Spring open house.

With Mrs. Mary York acting as the group's adviser, Janet Piper and Linda Ayers served as Fall and Spring presidents, respectively. A "C" average, a major or minor in Commercial, and passing an entrance test are the requirements of Commercial Club. Meetings are held the first and third Thursdays of each month.

All girls truly interested in the nursing profession are eligible for membership in the Future Nurses Club.

The purposes of this club are to interest students in personal and community health, to encourage them to find out what nursing requires and offers, and to help them decide wisely about professional or practical nursing as their career.

One of the most important functions of the club is the bi-weekly reading sessions at the St. Luke's pediatrics department. This year the club adopted a girl at Lakeland Village. Each year a scholarship is awarded to the senior girl who plans on a career in nursing. To earn money for the various projects the club sponsored the Panda booth and merchandise wheel at NC's carnival.

FNA is affiliated with Future Nurses of America and is sponsored by alumni of St. Luke's Hospital.

Living it up in costume as initiates are Mary Fremstad, Marilee Ruby and Sherri Lee Miller.

Trying to teach students something you haven't learned yourself isn't the easiest job in the world. Ask any FTA member who has taken charge of a class during the absence of the teacher. This actual teaching experience familiarizes the members with teaching procedures and problems.

The Future Teachers of America are very popular with the North Central faculty on Tuesday afternoons when they serve coffee at the weekly faculty meeting.

One of the main events of the year is the potluck dinner and installation of officers. Parents and guests of the future teachers are invited.

The old gym was the scene of a morning mixer sponsored by FTA. Leap Year was the theme. The purpose of this mixer was to earn money for a $50 teaching scholarship presented each year to a graduating senior.

Pep and energy was the motto of the freshman girls who, with the help of Mrs. Brown and Miss Killingsworth, organized the new homemaking club this year.

Holding a tea for two home economics teachers from Greece and Turkey was the first activity as a club.

The first open house was held at the beginning of the spring semester. The club was opened to all girls who had taken home economics courses or were interested in homemaking.

The membership is limited to thirty-five members and the girls must have a 2.0 or better grade average.

Many activities are still in the planning stage. For a money-making project a car wash was planned.

In the future, the club would like to visit Washington State University's experimental home economics laboratories and the Dorothy Dean kitchens in Spokane.

Sharron Stern, Sandy Whitten and Betty Sears salute as Julie Warfield ascends the stairs on the way to the Latin Club Roman Banquet.

Latin Club

"When in Rome, do as the Romans do" is a familiar saying to all Latin club members, especially in the spring around the "Ides of March" during their annual Roman banquet. The North Central cafeteria suddenly finds itself portraying a Roman temple with slaves, togas and all the trimmings. This banquet acquaints the members with the dress, food and customs of ancient Rome.

This year as a Christmas project Latin club donated gifts to the children of a nearby hospital.

One of the main events of the year was the annual Latin club-Math club basketball game. The whole club turns out to cheer on the team.

Because an actual trip to Rome was impossible, the members did the next best thing. Slides were viewed on the remains of that great empire.

"Senatus Populus que Romanus," or "The Senate and the Roman People," is their official title.

Numbers, be they rational, irrational, fractions or just plain integers, interest Math Club members. To be eligible for Math Club a student should have three semesters of mathematics with a "B" or better grade average, and no lower than an over-all "C" average.

The club's concentration is centered mostly on the sponsoring of math contests. They sponsor two competitions solely for North Central students. These consist of an algebra contest for freshmen and a geometry contest for sophomores. A national math contest for upperclassmen, held in March, is also sponsored by Math Club.

The traditional basketball game with the Latin Club furnishes much excitement as club members wonder which group of scholars possesses the most brawn.

The club was led by Ralph Miller during the fall semester, until Pete Duffy took over in the spring. Robert Barnard is adviser of the group.

Interest in the medical profession is stimulated by Medecine d'Avenir through various activities closely associated with the medical field. The club was founded in the fall of 1955.

Furthering their interest in this subject, members of the club witnessed the films "Birth of a Baby" and "Birth of Twins" shown in the courthouse by Dr. David C. Groenig.

The major service project of the club consisted of collecting medicine samples from local doctors and sending them to missionaries abroad.

To be eligible for Medecine Club, a student must have and maintain a 2.5 scholastic average, be interested in the medical profession and have a science or mathematics major.

As a means of making money, the medical enthusiasts supported the ASB carnival in the fall with a cane-toss booth, and in the spring presented a morning mixer.

Sponsoring a literary contest featuring prose and poetry divisions was the chief project of Quill and Scroll society this year along with the many other journalistic activities of its busy members.

Outstanding journalism students on The News and Tamarack staffs are recommended to this society by the publications' advisers and must rank scholastically in the upper third of their classes before applying for membership. Quill and Scroll is an international honor society organized in 1939 for high school journalists.

The club's members were honored to have Dorothy Powers of the Spokesman-Review as guest speaker at their installation banquet this year. The fall out-going president at this time was Gary Carpenter, who was replaced by Mike Merriman, spring choice for president.

New adviser to the club this year is Joseph Tremblay, who took over the position when Miss Mary McKenna transferred last year.

RIFLE CLUB—Ready, aim, fire! Lower right—Steve Priel, Joe Hines and Bob McLean.

Rifle Club

Affiliated with the National Rifle Association and with the Washington State Rifle Association, Rifle Club stimulates appreciation in rifle marksmanship.

This year's club was able to buy four scopes and two rifles, compete in a four-school league in which Jim Riddle, fall president, received one of the eight medals awarded, and win two matches over Shadle Park.

Last year, this organization was able to give letters to deserving members for the first time.

Boasting twenty interested members, Rifle Club is assured of a tough, oncoming year since the majority of its members are underclassmen.

Not only does the club offer opportunity to improve marksmanship, but it also gives the participant fundamental lessons in the care and use of firearms.

Students seeking membership are required to pass a rifle safety course.

Promoting the culture and correct interpretation of the language of Spain is the goal of Spanish Club. Open to all freshman, sophomore, junior and senior students of Spanish with a "C" average, the club maintained active projects throughout the year.

Beginning the year with an open house at the home of Nancy Freeman, president, 25 new members were taken in. They were initiated at a night meeting on October 6. At the school carnival, Spanish Club operated the ring-toss booth in the cafeteria. Sponsoring one of the Christmas needy families was the year's service project. A Mexican Christmas party was held as the December social. Two other parties and a picnic concluded the year's activities.

A business meeting and a group social are held once a month. Mr. Walter Mayer has served as the group's adviser for the past two years.

"What word can we use here?" asks Marcia Dungan as Dan Womack and Bonnie Burgin help her amend the Spanish Club constitution.

Striving to further their talent and to perform before a live audience are the aims of the members of Talent Club. In addition to performing for entertainment purposes at various civic, church and school organizations, the group sponsored two needy families, presented a talent con before the student body and worked in the school carnival. Children at an orphanage were entertained at Christmas time by members of Tau Chi.

Invitational tryouts were held in February and 11 new members were selected.

The club is proud that this year four of its members were represented in the All-State Orchestra and Chorus at Wenatchee. Many of the members also applied for the nation-wide talent contest, in which a scholarship or cash prize was offered.

Mrs. Helen Haltom and Mrs. Virginia Wilcox are club advisers. Anyone with talent is eligible for membership in Tau Chi.

After earning 15 points either by acting in dramatic productions or working backstage, one may be qualified to become a member of Thespians. The club's purpose is to improve standards of acting and to learn more about theatrical methods. Troupe 628 of the National Thespians society has performed in two outstanding plays, "Pinocchio" and "Little Brown Jug."

Thespians' main money-raising projects for this year were a booth in the carnival and a mixer, "Jug Jive." The club invited the alumni to an installation of officers, held the annual Hogie Party and they feasted at a potluck dinner after a Children's Theater performance. A party was given for the graduating seniors who, along with the other members, will never forget the rewarding experiences of performing on the stage.

Mrs. Genevieve Oppen is the club's adviser.

Sharon Mills, Sharron Stern and Carrie Unger wrap presents for the Christmas needy family Vox sponsored this year.

Vox Puellarum

"Friendships true, service too," are the central aims of Vox Puellarum, girls philanthropic and honorary society.

Vox Puellarum (voice of the girls) was organized in 1913 and up to this year has emphasized and promoted musical, vocational and dramatic tendencies within the club. Vox was chosen by Soroptimist Women's club for trial affiliation. Soroptimist (the best of women) is an international organization including only those women who are the best in their particular vocation or own their own business.

Under the influence of this new sponsor, Vox is now emphasizing community as well as school service.

Many activities filled the calendar of events for Vox. Revising the constitution was the biggest accomplishment within the club and several service projects were completed. Vox presented their annual award to an outstanding senior girl, operated the ring toss booth at the carnival and held an alumnae party and Mothers' Tea.

Main projects of the year for the Warriors were sponsoring the annual football banquet, at which members of the school's championship football team were feted, and a spring-semester convocation.

Money in the treasury is used for athletic projects, trophies and special equipment to benefit sports at North Central. A diathermy and whirlpool were purchased in the past for North Central by the Warriors.

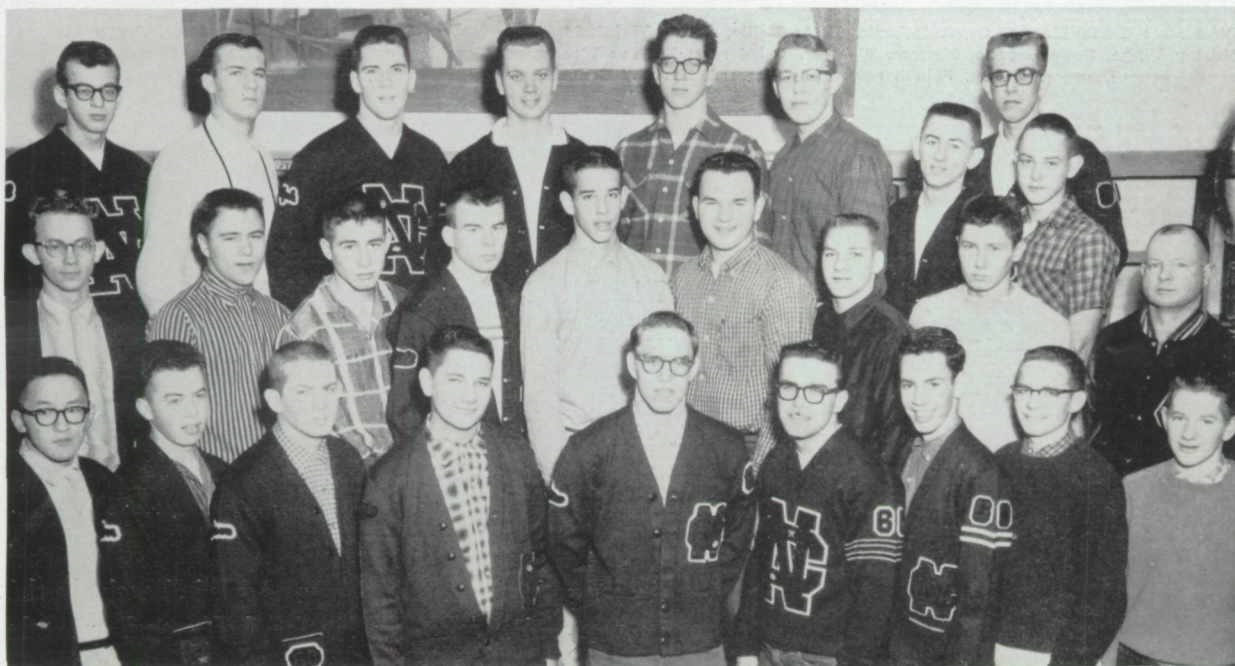

During the first semester there were 49 members. Membership increased, however, with varsity awards for the spring. Requirements for joining are good citizenship and having lettered in a varsity sport. Athletes are chosen from football, cross-country, basketball, wrestling, tennis, golf, baseball and track.

First-semester officers were Lavaughn Stevens, president; Mike Szymczak, secretary-treasurer, and Tom Alberts, sergeant at arms. Leaders of the second term were Phill Stohs, president; Rick Street, vice-president; Tom Alberts, secretary-treasurer, and Jim Duke, sergeant at arms.

Mike Szymczak receives the coveted Archie Buckley Inspirational Award at the annual Football banquet held by the Warriors at the end of the football season.

Choir

The North Central Choir, under the able direction of James Simmons, received a great honor this year by having two representatives in the All-State Choir. These two girls, Carrie Clayton and Debbie McCoy, journeyed to Wenatchee to sing with 380 high school music lovers who ranked among top singers in their school's music department.

Among the many performances of the choir this year were the caroling in the halls and on television during the Christmas season, supplying background music for the annual Christmas convocation, and singing appearances at local hotels.

As the seasons changed from winter to spring, the choir followed suit by preparing a new repertoire for their Spring Music Concert. "Ballad of Brotherhood" and excerpts from "Porgy and Bess" were among the spring selections of the choir.

Singing at graduation on June 5 in the Coliseum will be the last performance of this year's choir.

Girls' League Quartet

Organized late in the year, the quartet's opportunities to sing publicly were few but they did perform at the spring installation.

Girls' Glee Club

Two concerts and several appearances in convocations were part of the year's program for these musically-minded glee girls.

Orchestra

This year seems to be full of new things and new ideas for NC, especially in the music department. The orchestra, which was formerly used only for such productions as Doll Shop, this year has become an integrated part of the music department.

Consisting of thirty-one pieces, which include eleven stringed instruments, the orchestra appeared with the other groups of the music department in their annual winter concert at the Masonic Temple, and at the spring music concert held in the North Central auditorium.

The orchestra was under the excellent direction of James Simmons.

From A. G. Tiemann's skill and interest in organizing musical combinations has evolved a band which will, by next year, be able to play for school dances and entertainment, concerts and contests.

The new Stage Band was well under way this year when it supplied music for Bill Page, one of Lawrence Welk's saxophonists. All except one of the eighteen members will be left next year to carry on the good start made by this year's members.

Stage Band

The reorganized band has performed for PTA organizations and parents' groups, as well as appearing in other programs, concerts and contests.

All set? A. G. Tiemann is ready to direct the band in one of their many very enjoyable numbers.

Mr. Tiemann . . . and the Drum Majors

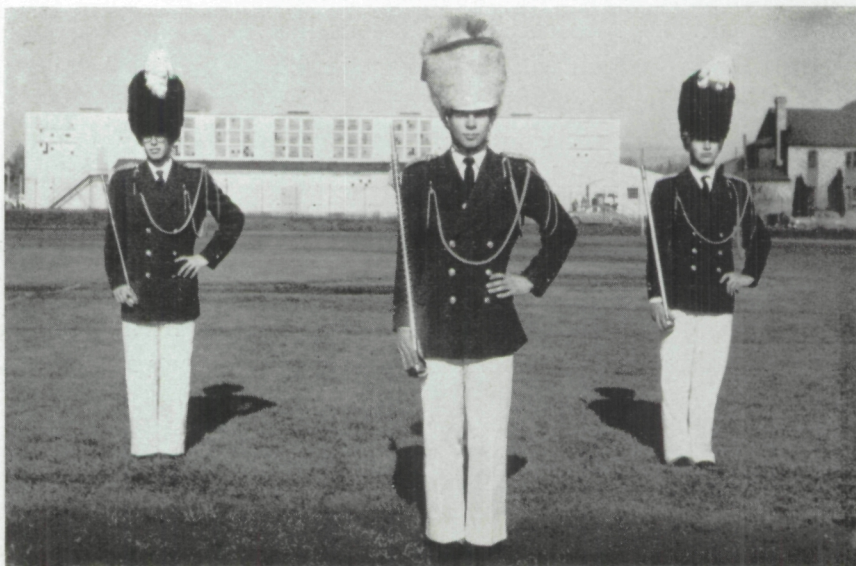

"North Central has been a fun year—wonderful and really terrific," said A. G. Tiemann, our new band director. Born in Sedalia, Missouri, and educated in Arkansas City, Kansas, where he played in professional dance bands for a few years before entering Kansas State Teachers' College.

After teaching for two years, he was drafted and served four years in the Army Engineers. Then he resumed teaching at Colfax in 1948, and moved to Wenatchee in 1953.

Since Mr. Tiemann came to NC this fall, his outstanding enthusiasm and teaching ability has been reflected in the music department's achievements.

Jim Lutz, assistant drum major; Phill Stohs, head drum major; Don Woodbury, assistant drum major.

James F. Simmons is caught by the camera as he leads the choir in a rehearsal of their Christmas songs.

Mr. Simmons . . . and the Majorettes

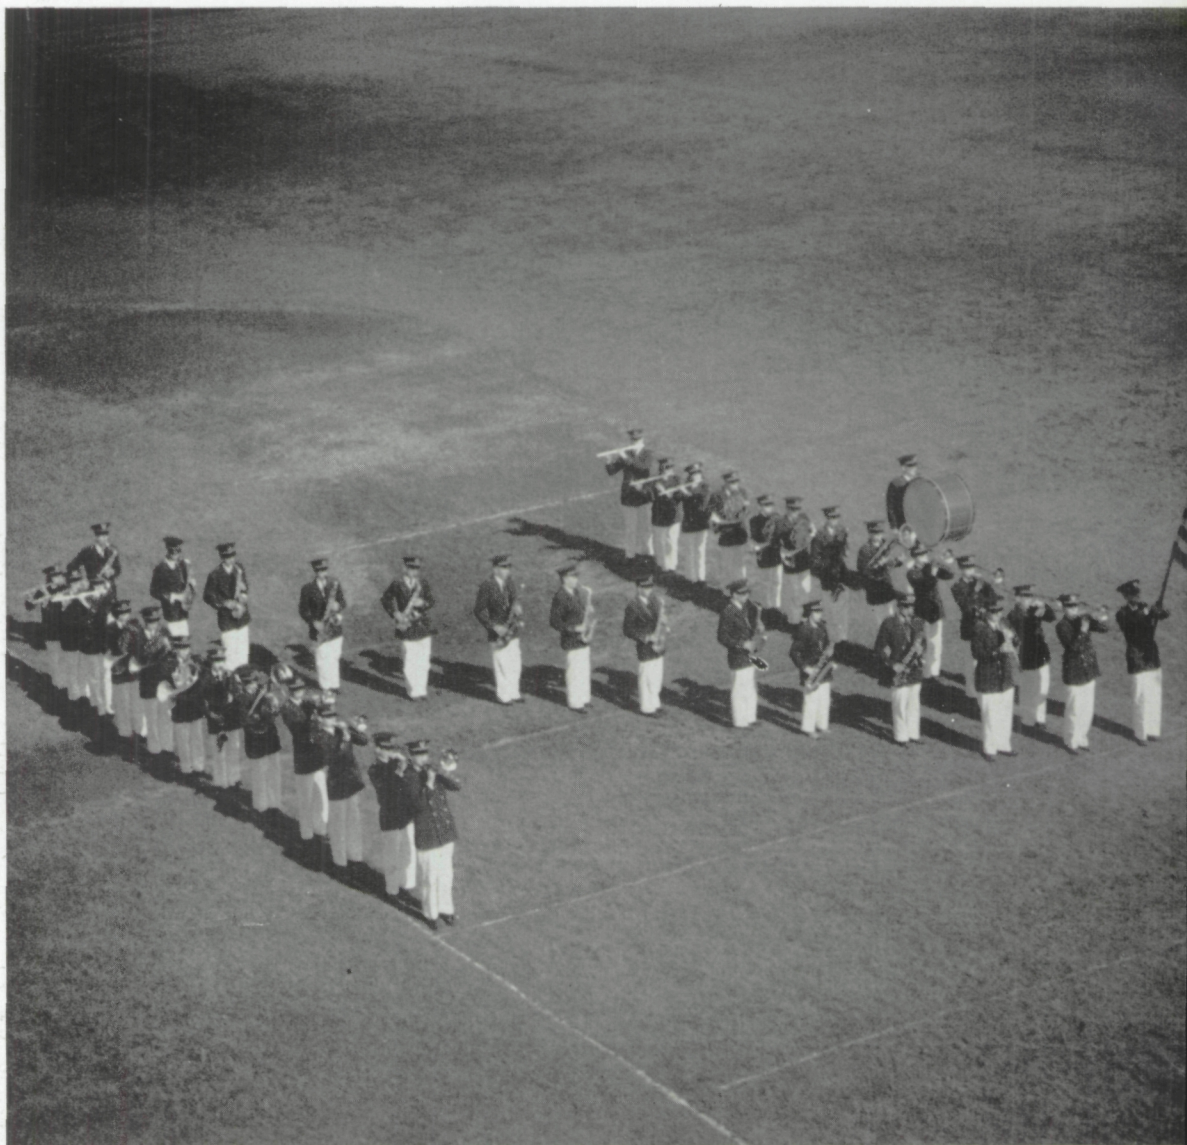

Originally from Shelton, Washington, Mr. James F. Simmons graduated from WSU. His first teaching position was that of choral director in Wenatchee's high school. While in Wenatchee, he directed such groups as the community chorus, a mixed civic group, the Appolos, a group of business men. According to Mr. Simmons, the future for NC's music department is bright. He stated that Broadway musicals such as "Annie Get Your Gun," "Oklahoma," and "South Pacific" will be undertaken by the music department.

Majorettes, another first for NC, paraded at the head of the band for the Apple Blossom and Lilac festivals.

Our new majorettes, Louise Erickson, Kaye Beck and Sandy Rudy, give us a sample of their style.

The North Central marching band has dispelled all of the dire predictions which were cast soon after the announcement that girls would be eligible for positions as band members.

Another first for the band was participating in regular maneuvers while marching and playing in the stunts at the football games held at the stadium. The Red Feathers and Color Girls cooperated with the band in performing the various stunts which in-cons was another in the long list of activities of the band.

Playing along with one of Lawrence Welk's orchestra members, Bill Page, the band presented a concert at the Masonic Temple open to all music lovers in the city. The concert, which was held in early April, was followed with a second concert before the student body.

Marching in the annual Apple Blossom parade and performing in a concert during the festival were on the agenda during the latter part of April.

Spokane's Lilac Week followed the Apple Blossom festivities in Wenatchee. An appropriate ending to the activities of the marching band was its performance at the Commencement exercises in June.

School Life

On the totem carved the Indian. Carved his own distinctive mask. This he carried with him always—to the council, to the gatherings . . . Thus the student makes his mark through his council, through his gatherings, through the school life all about him.

UPPER LEFT—The ladder in the typing class is unnoticed by Beverly Chrysler and Marjorie Tracy. Construction in the school was a common occurrence during the year.

RIGHT—Well, at least he's high and dry at the moment anyway. If a fire ever occurs in the auditorium, the sprinkling system will act immediately and wet everything completely. Wish the workmen luck.

UPPER LEFT: Busy work? No, registration. Miss Simpson and Mr. Nye register girls for the physical education classes. UPPER RIGHT: Which one? A hard choice for Football Princess Marlys Gorrell. The handsome boys are cocaptains Lavaughn Stephens and Mike Szymczak. LOWER LEFT: Excitement reigns supreme at the CV game on our field. Mardell Jacobson, Judy Huss, Sandee Laughlin, Sue Mueller, Paula Ayers, Francis Vollert and Miss Pinkham exhibit different expressions. LOWER RIGHT: Introducing the champs! Those big guys take up the whole stage during the introductory con as football season begins.

UPPER RIGHT: Val Denton, Colleen Wood, Sharon Stern, Karen Moore and Sharon Riley went beatnik for the Vox Puellarum football con.

LOWER RIGHT: The notorious "Sebastian," John Havens, is busily engaged in painting numbers on the lockers for our new system of locker identification.

UPPER LEFT—The new fire escapes are being used for the first time, unless, of course, someone tried to sneak up them before.

UPPER RIGHT—The Sadie Hawkins dance was completed when the little outhouses came. Inside the houses are Bruce Nelson and Bette Bailey.

MIDDLE—"Well, I ain't so sure," stammers Howard Walker as Marry-in' Sam; Rick Street, tries to perform the ceremony for the reluctant groom and eager bride, Marge Street.

LOWER LEFT—Patty Theodorson and her father, Mr. George Theodorson, seem to be paying more attention to the photographer at the Girls League Dad-Daughter banquet than the waitress, Christy Fackenthall, who just might spill all over them.

Frosh Football

"I feel that these boys have come along enough during the season that they will play good ball when they are juniors and seniors," stated football Coach William Diederick, speaking of the progress his freshman team made in learning the fundamentals of the game.

Opening the season with an 8-0 triumph over the young Panthers of Mead high school, the Papooses dropped all league tilts except an October 28 encounter with Shadle Park. North Central emerged victorious in that event, walloping the Highlanders 19-0.

When the Papoose defense was clicking, the offense was able to push across enough points to win the games. The two wins and four losses—0-26, 0-39, 0-39 and 0-12—clearly indicate this.

Varsity Basketball

Although it is usually regarded as the easy way to explain a poor year, North Central basketball fans had real reason to say "Wait until next year" at the end of the 1959-60 season as only three team members will be lost by graduation.

Combining the league's worst defense with a sometimes-hot, sometimes-cold offense, the Indians wound up the season with mediocre 5-7 league and 8-11 season records. The hot-cold streaks are in evidence in view of the league record—North Central, fifth in the league, failed to defeat only champion Central Valley in the top four at least once. Yet sixth-place John Rogers twice buried the Indians by lopsided scores.

Only West Valley bowed twice to the Braves, by almost identical scores of 48-42 and 49-42. The squad split with Shadle Park, 37-45 and 58-53, as well as with Lewis and Clark, 48-43 and 34-48; and Gonzaga Prep, 55-50 and 42-65.

Central Valley clobbered North Central by 68-40 and 64-43 margins. Only Gonzaga managed to stop the champion Bears.

Nonleague tilts also furnished thrills and disappointments for the Red and Black. The team defeated such squads as the Eastern Washington College of Education junior varsity, Wapato, Moses Lake, Kellogg and Eastmont of Wenatchee. Behind junior Steve Anderson's 21 points and senior Phil Stohs' 18, the squad upended EWCE 70-67.

Wapato fell 60-51, Moses Lake 49-48, Kellogg 53-52, and Eastmont 54-32 as Anderson led the way every time. Stohs, seniors John Goeller and Ralph Jones and junior Graig Batters took turns for scoring honors behind Anderson.

last in defense allowing 53.8 points per game. Individual honors were few and far between.

Anderson, second-team All-City choice, was in a three-way tie for fourth in scoring with a 12.7 average. He was tenth in field goal average with .392 and fourth in free throws with an .830 percentage.

Stohs was No. 12 from the foul line, .709, and No. 16 from the floor, .374. He had a 9.4 point average. Batters was 18th and 22d from the floor and foul line, respectively.

On the boards, Goeller was the league's fifth highest with 72 rebounds. Anderson had 61 for tenth.

With several returning lettermen and many moving up from the B squad, next season could be a big one for North Central.

Little Brown Jug

A beautiful girl, a dashing young man and the conventional villain—all of these add up to just one thing—this year's school play, "The Little Brown Jug."

The play, which follows a melodramatic plot, was taken from the only remaining copy in the United States, found in the Oregon State library.

The cast, under the direction of Mrs. Genevieve Oppen, gave three performances, one of which served as the theme for the annual Girls' League Dad-Daughter Banquet.

Although unmoved by Ed Lamphier's wooing, Deanda Sylte listens attentively.

Cala Chilton and her little sister, Lila Chilton, bring back the good old days of vaudeville with a soft-shoe, cane dance for the oleo.

The slide seems like a popular pastime in the play "Pinocchio." Pictured on the slide are: Marilyn Burch, Judy Mishler, Ricki Bassett, Dan DeWitt, Nancy Tussey, Sharon Fisher and Linda Durbin. Below are: Harry Franklin and Bill Mehl.

With two seniors—Lyle Carstens and Mike Sandgren—appearing in their fourth Children's theater production, North Central thespians thrilled grade school audiences for six consecutive weeks with performances of Pinocchio.

After numerous weeks of rehearsal, the actors presented five Saturday showings at the Post theater for the elementary students. On February 27, performances were given in the Trentwood grade school auditorium.

Pinocchio

One final playing was given at North Central in an afternoon convocation March 4.

The play was presented under the direction of Mrs. Genevieve Oppen. Assistants were Miss Carol Hurt and Miss Diane Sharp, cadets from Eastern Washington and Whitworth colleges, respectively.

Don't listen Pinocchio, trouble is just around the corner! The Fox, Stephani Miller; Pinocchio, Lyle Carstens and The Cat, Gayle Carpenter.

All the puppets: Linda Hendricks, Peggy Hardenbrook, Gayle Carpenter, Bonnie Stephenson, Connie Lappin and Carolyn Albright are shocked at Pinocchio's growing nose.

Lyle "Pinnocchio" Carstens sports a disbelieving look as Gayle Carpenter and Stephanie Miller tell him some strange tales.

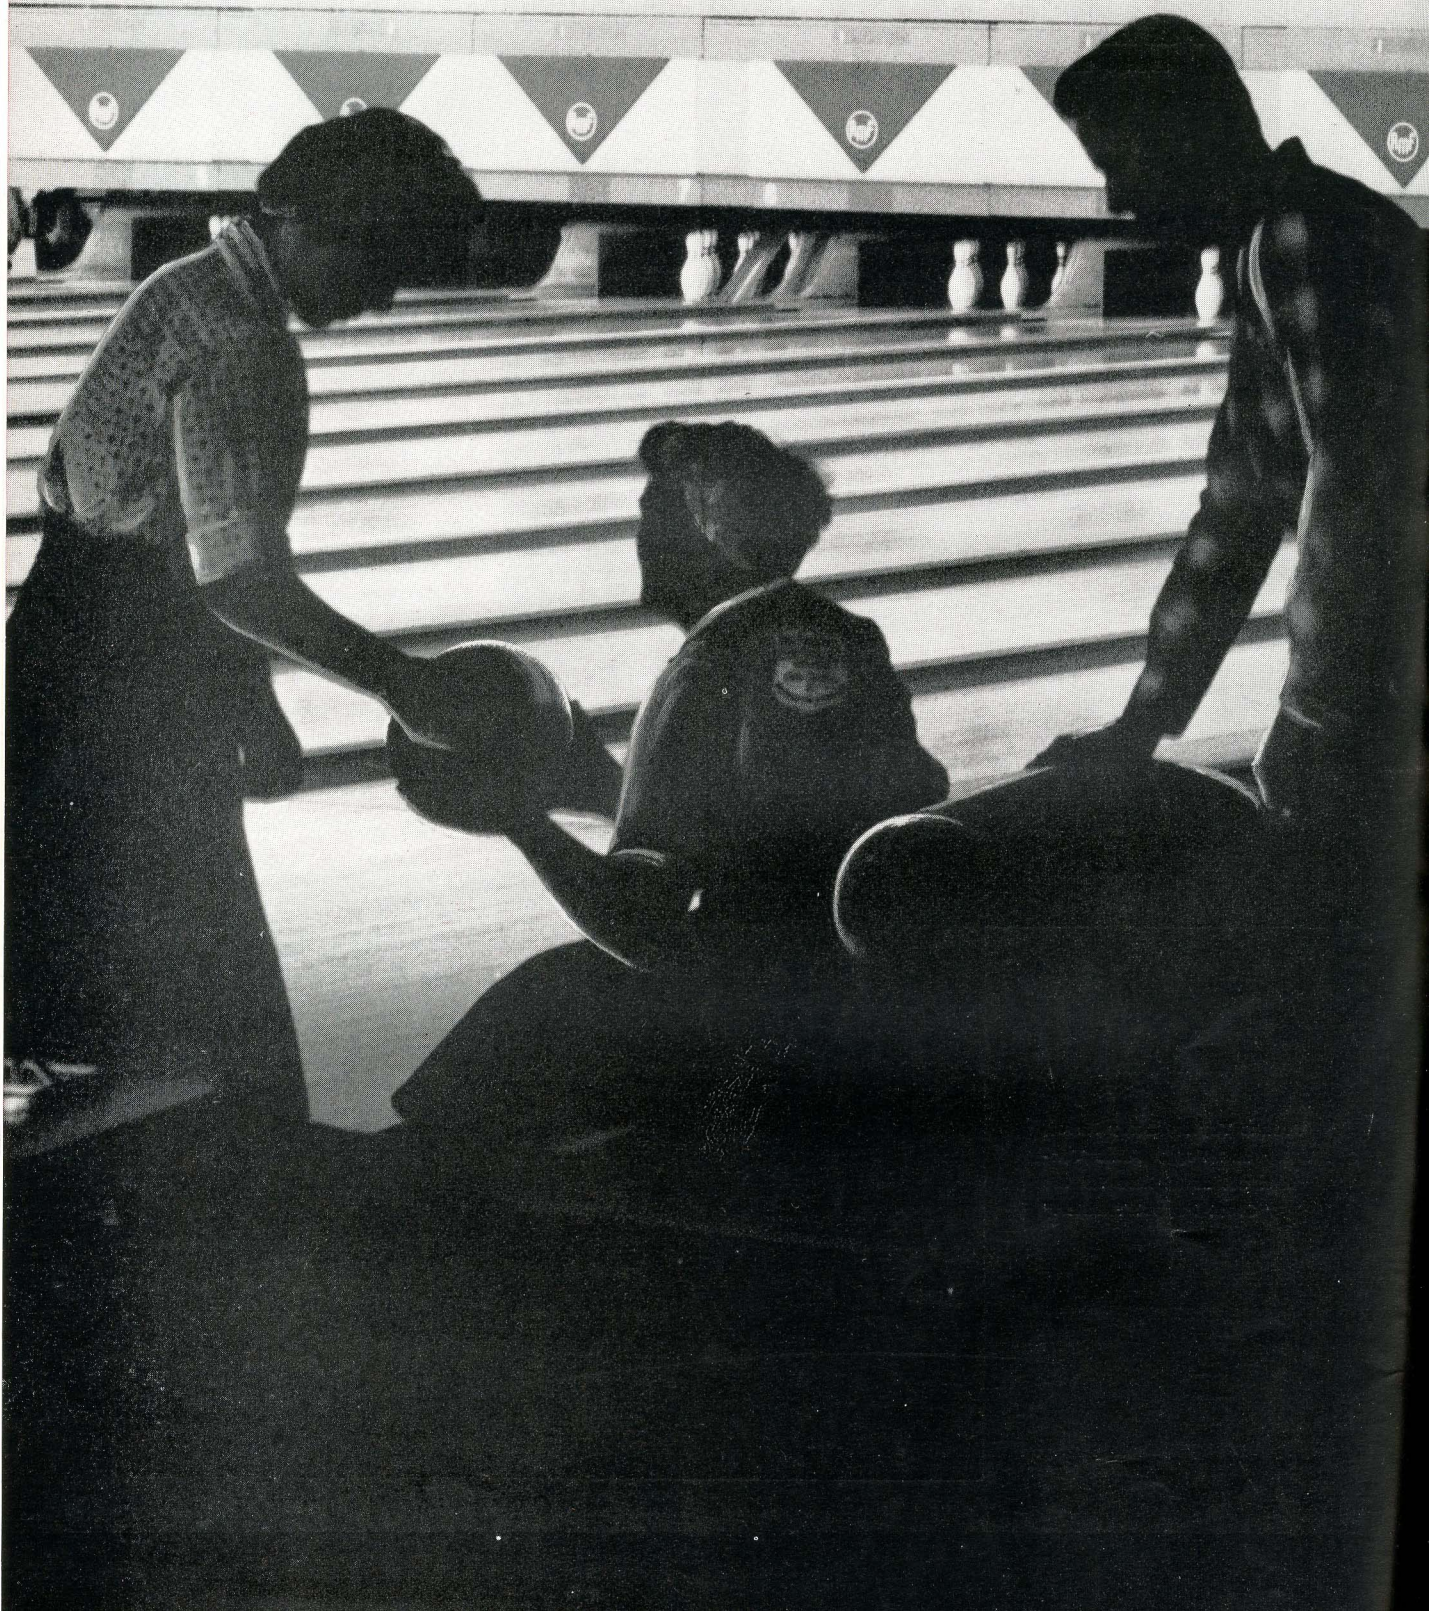

Mike Sandgren places Lyle Carstens on his work table to add a few finishing touches.

Yvonne Taylor, Gerry Raver, Sue Wiley and Peggy Anne Tantom act as barkers for the "Great Puppet Theater."

Varsity Coach

There's nothing so uncertain as a sure thing! Some people can't win even on a certain thing! Take those so-called football experts—better known as the city press.

Upon careful study, each member of the press came up with what he thought would be the final city league standings. Almost all agreed on one point: Lewis and Clark would easily retain the championship.

Two other teams seemed to have their own private battle for the other six positions: Rogers and Gonzaga for second; Shadle and North Central for fourth, with Shadle having the edge, and Central Valley and West Valley for sixth.

If anything seemed more certain than the Tigers' winning first, it was that North Central would wind up above only the two Valley schools. This theory seemed infallible when the Indians lost preseason games to Richland and Wenatchee, giving up 37 points while scoring none.

Then came the upset of upsets, according to the "experts." Mighty Lewis and Clark lost to those newcomer Highlanders. The other two games of the first round gave no surprises as the Pirates and Bullpups defeated the Bears and Eagles.

The "experts" received more setbacks in the second round: Rogers beat Lewis and Clark and North Central dropped the Bullpups 13-6. The Shadle team beat West Valley in the other tilt.

With the third week of play, the "experts" thought they had it made as they chose Rogers over Shadle, Lewis and Clark over North Central, and Gonzaga over Central Valley. Things seemed to fall into place as the Pirates and Bullpups scored wins. But, no, those Indians scored their second straight win by edging the Tigers, 7-6.

No great surprises occurred in the fourth week, even when the Tigers suffered their fourth straight loss at the hands of Gonzaga. North Central scored its third consecutive win, 34-0, over West Valley and Shadle beat Central Valley.

The outlook on the season began to change sharply. The Indian win over the Eagles set up what many considered to be the championship game. North Central (3-0) and Rogers (3-0) were to meet at Rogers in an afternoon contest.

The tilt was to pit the Pirate offense, which had scored 86 points in three games, against the Indian defense, which had yielded just 12 points in three contests. Rogers was picked to win.

Another upset at the expense of the "experts" occurred as North Central combined a strong offense with its defense to clobber the Pirates, 27-0.

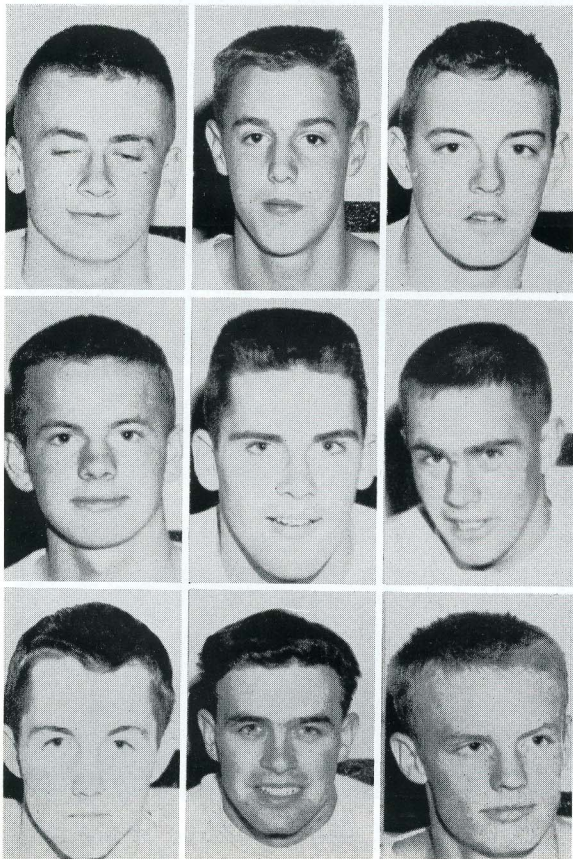

NC rolled over Central Valley 34-6 and Shadle 21-0 to win its first undisputed crown in 26 years. It marked the first perfect season by any team in the present six-game setup.

The Indians led the league in total points scored, least points against, net yards rushing and total offense. Halfback Marvin Henthorn led the league in total offense with 521 yards, all on the ground, for an 8.2 average and six touchdowns.

Halfback Rick Nichols set a new record with four interceptions against Shadle. The team held the Bears to a record low 20 yards held its opponents to a school-record low of 18 points.

Strength of the team at the end of the season is attested to by the seventh-place ranking in the state poll for class AA schools. No other team in the top ten in the state had more than one loss. North Central, with a 6-2 season record, rated above squads with 7-0, 8-1 and 9-1 records. NC was the only Spokane team among the first twenty.

Lavaughn Stephens and Ralph Jones led North Central all-city selections, gaining berths on all three squads. Review. Mike Szymczak, Chronicle second team end, was chosen as Review center.

The league's total offense and rushing leader, Marvin Henthorn, was first-string Chronicle halfback and Rick Nichols was alternate. He also received honorable mention on the KHO-TV and Review squads. Henthorn was the third Indian first-team pick for KHQ.

Picked on the Chronicle second team, in addition to Szymczak, was Tom Alberts. He was also second-team Review as was Henthorn. Tom Hedemark, end; Eric Wolters and Bill Payne, tackles; John Goeller, center, and Nichols and Dave Watt, backs, received Review honorable mention.

Five Indian backs ended the season among the top twenty rushing leaders and three made the same distinction on total offense. Henthorn's 521 yards gained led both categories and he also had the best average, 8.2 yards per carry.

B-Squad Football

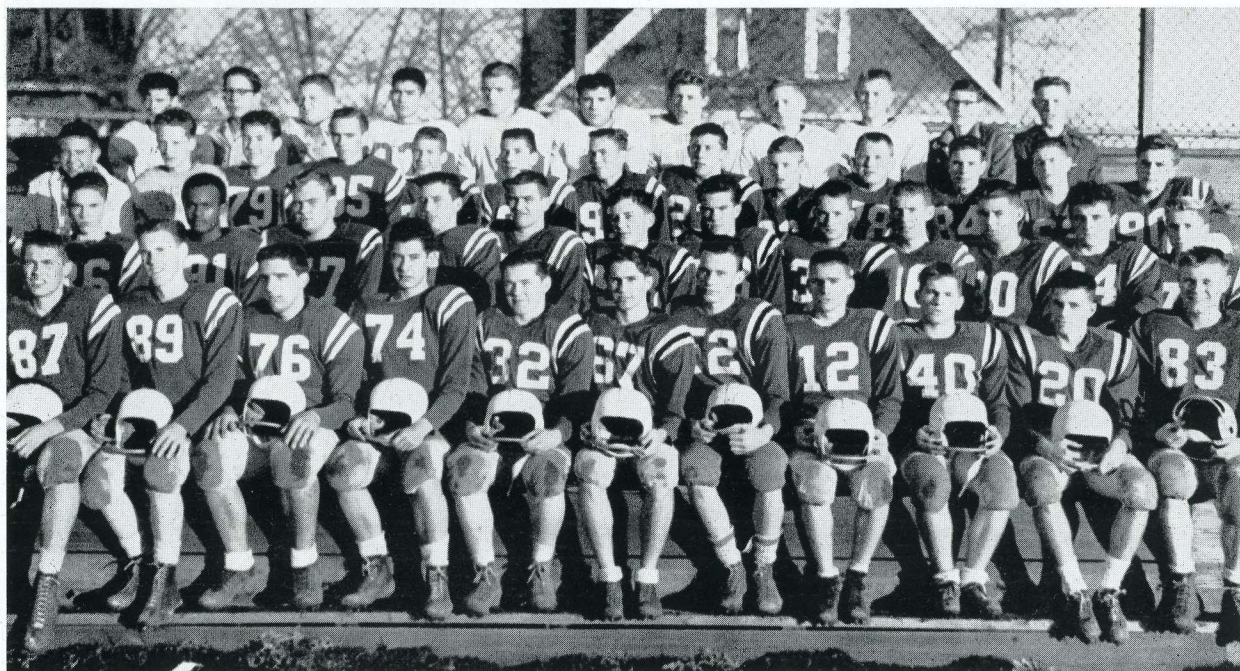

Despite the team's 1-3-2 league record, B-squad football Coaches Dale Blair and William Lowther praised backs Gary Pleasant, Jim Delemeter, Harvey Luiten and Larry Baum as good varsity prospects.

With a few good breaks, the Bees would have wound up the season 4-1-1. In the 19-26 loss to Lewis and Clark, the tying touchdown was called back on a clipping penalty.

All other final scores, except one, were close as the Indian Bees failed to score needed points. They beat West Valley 19-18, but were edged by Lewis and Clark 19-26, and Rogers, 19-24, and tied by Central Valley, 19-19, and Gonzaga, 20-20. Only Shadle Park managed to beat the Indians by more than one touch down, 0-25.

With four games decided by five or fewer points, the freshman basketball team ended the league season with a 4-6 won-loss record.

Victory did not come to the Indians until the third game of the season. After bowing to Gonzaga, 29-34, and to Lewis and Clark 19-42, the team dropped Rogers 31-24.

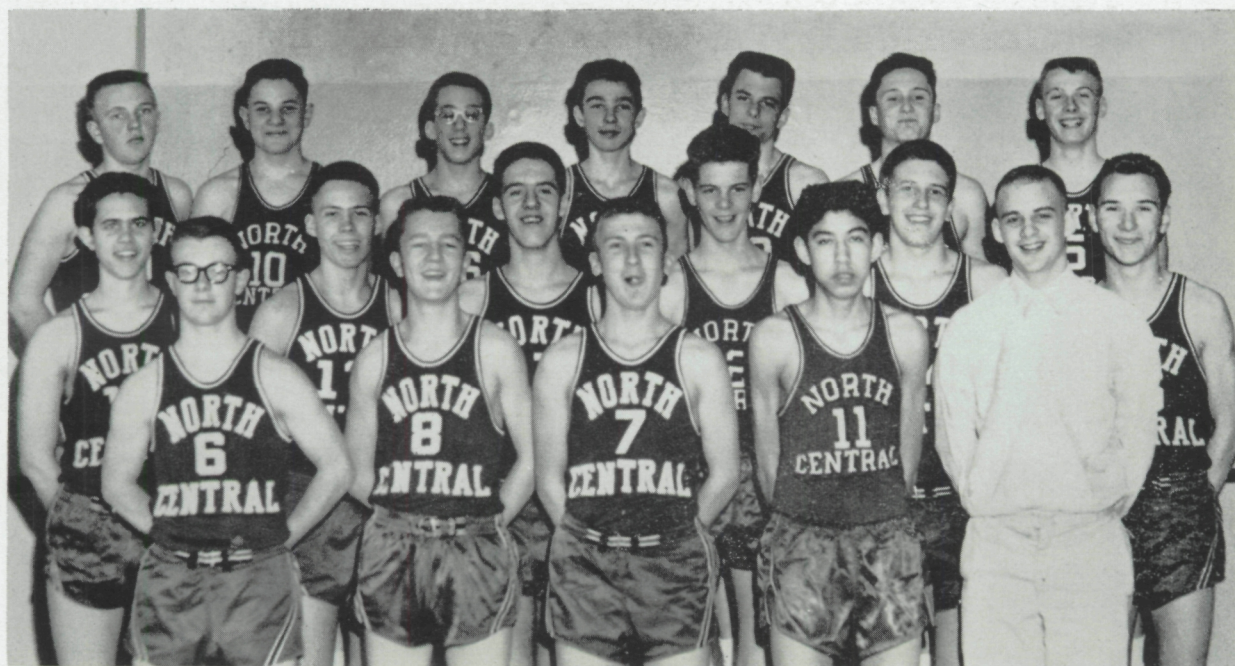

Another defeat, 29-34, at the hands of West Valley preceded a 34-20 trouncing of Shadle Park, to end the first round.

The 22-21 win over Gonzaga opened the second round and a 38-18 win over Shadle Park closed it. Losses to LC, Rogers and WV, by scores of 12-31, 36-40 and 28-40,

Varsity Baseball

Only three returning lettermen greeted varsity baseball Coach Al Manfred this season. However, besides a good crop of juniors, the coach said he expected "good things from my three returning seniors, Nick Frucci at first base, Mike Szymczak at second base and Ron Wirsch in center field.

"These three should excell in their respective positions. Right now, I feel that Mike is the best second baseman in the league."

Several preseason scrimmages with league rivals and several practice games were included in the warmup schedule. New foe for the Indians this season was the Coeur d'Alene Viking team.

Varsity diamondmen drew a 2-2 split in four games with Lewiston. North Central won 6-3 and 3-2 and dropped 5-4 and 9-7 decisions to the Bengals.

The Indians also drew an even split in early scrimmages with West Valley and Gonzaga. The Eagles were soundly defeated 11-2, while the Bullpups ran away from NC 12-6. The Zags continued their dominance of the Braves with a 4-1 victory in the league opener.

Besides the three lettermen, Indian prospects are mainly juniors, giving high hopes for next season. A sophomore and a junior with senior eligibility are also in the lineup.

Marty O'Brien, at shortstop, is the sophomore, and pitcher Ron Smith is the player with senior eligibility. Others according to positions are: First base, Frucci; second base, Szymczak; third base, Del Clute; catchers, Gordie Allen, Rick Nichols and Don Jones; outfielders, Jones, Ron Wirsch, Bob Sleeth and Marvin Henthorn; pitchers, Smith, Wirsch, Steve Anderson and Gary Kaatz.

Upper left: Ron Smith is "out" as Del Clute touches him with the ball. Upper right: Steve Anderson picks up a ball out in left field. Lower left: Mike Szymczak waits for the ball as Don Jones gives the signal for the pitch. Lower right: Nick Frucci catches the ball on first.

Two following games, before the Tamarack went to press, saw the Indians draw an even 1-1 split with Lewis and Clark and Rogers. The Pirates romped over NC, 8-2.

Overcoming early 2-0 and 3-1 Tiger leads, the Braves outscored Lewis and Clark. Final score gave the squad a decisive 13-6 victory.

Coach Manfred said that if the team continued to show progress as it had during early-season workout, the squad "will be very hard to beat. It is experience that counts."

Following an April 26 encounter with Shadle Park's Highlanders, the squad drew a bye in league play the following Thursday. However, the team traveled out of state to tangle with the Coeur d'Alene Viking, the new addition to the Indian schedule.

Weather was a major hindrance to the squad this year as many practice sessions were rained or snowed out. The slated April 14 game at West Valley high school was rained out. It was to be made up on May 9.

After a practice game with Newport March 30, the squad met Central Valley in the league opener April 14. Coach William Lowther hoped to schedule other warm-up games before the encounter with the Bears.

"This is the best group of baseballers I've had since I fielded the Shadle Park team (North Central freshmen who transferred to Shadle) four years ago." Coach William Diedrick optimistically said this of his freshman baseball team at the beginning of the season.

Twenty-seven frosh showed up at the early workouts. Coach Diedrick planned to carry a 16-man squad through the season.

Believing that "baseball is a game that is learned by playing every day," the coach always schedules a busy slate of practice games up till league-play time.

Here come some fast balls from Meyer Ziman, Mike Hoover, Walt Schroeder and Herman Kruiswyk as Ed Fiskland and George Nethercutt look on.

Cross-Country

Despite a successful dual-meet season as far as winning more than it lost, the North Central cross-country squad had to settle for a fourth-place berth in the city league's final standings at the end of the fall season.

League wins came at the expense of Central Valley, Rogers and Gonzaga. Shadle Park and Lewis and Clark were the only teams to drop the harriers. In nonleague action, Mead fell to the Indians on September 29.

This season marked Burrill Exley's last as North Central's cross-country coach.

Bob Leonard, Larry Fifield and Eric Wolters run the high hurdles during practice session.

As this story was written the varsity thin-clads were matching their ability against the Central Valley trackmen in the valley. The Indians lost their first meet, 74-35, to Gonzaga.

Larry Baum, Loren McKnight, Bob Leonard and the relay team took first places against the Bullpups. At the Moses Lake relays Indian hurdlers racked up 15 points as they placed first and third in the shuttle hurdles races. Bob Leonard, Eric Wolters, Dave Mingo and Larry Fifield ran the shuttle races.

Other track meets were scheduled against Rogers, Lewis and Clark, West Valley and Shadle Park.

JV Track

Varsity Coach Dale Blair worked with the junior varsity boys this year, also, as both squads practiced together and had meets on the same days. Junior or sophomore boys not making the varsity, run for the JV's.

Players can move up or down from the two squads and both have the same events. The thinclads have meets with Gonzaga, Central Valley, Rogers, Lewis and Clark, West Valley and Shadle Park.

May 6 was the District meet and on May 13 the Tridistrict meet. Both were held at Hart field. The state meet at Pullman was May 20 and 21.

Freshman tracksters were under the coaching of Lyle Jewell this spring. About 35 boys turned out for the squad.

Events included the 75-yard dash, 660-yard run, three-quarter mile, high jump, broad jump, pole vault, low hurdles, and the eight-pound shot throw. The 440-yard relay was the last event of the frosh track meets.

Frosh Track

As the Tamarack "went to bed," Bob DeBill and Steve Gallemore looked like good prospects for the distance runs while Dick Berg, Kelly Davis and Ken Thompson were effective in the high jump.

Golf

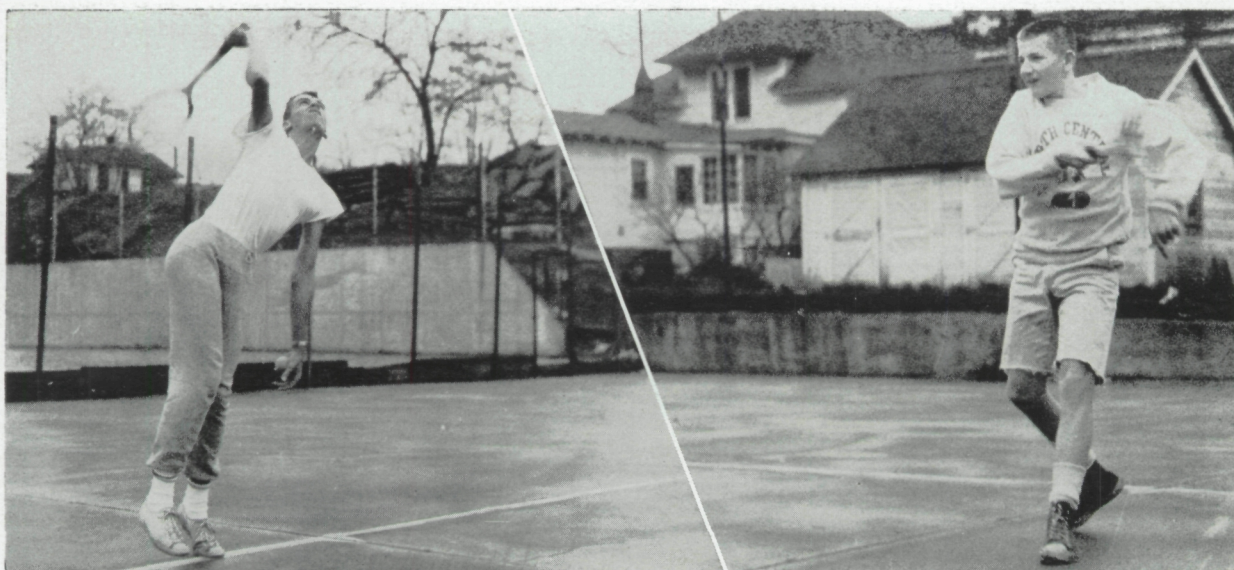

North Central's boys' golf squad lost its opening match of the season to Gonzaga 9½ to 8½. Remaining matches were with Gonzaga, Shadle Park twice, Lewis and Clark twice, Rogers twice, mixed two-ball and Inland Empire tourney,

Only six boys played in each league match. Against Gonzaga, Maylan Moe got ½ point, Jim Cozzetto 2, Jim Tucker 1, Dennis Gibson 3, Roger Bean 2 and Anderson 0. They were listed according to first to sixth places on the team.

"There were 16 boys out for the team and most of them were sophomores," stated Coach Ray Simonson. "I had only three let-terms in Cozzetto, Tucker and Bean."

Jim Tucker holds his position after hitting a beautiful drive off the back nine at Downriver.

Expecting a fairly successful season, varsity tennis Coach Mack Saunders had six returning lettermen this spring, five of whom were juniors.

Top prospect for the Indians was Glenn DuPree, city mixed doubles champion. Twenty boys, including Glenn and the other lettermen, made bids for team positions.

Coach Saunders let the boys earn their spots on the squad through a ladder tourna-

Wrestling

Wrestling is the newest competitive sport at North Central, and this was the first year of league play for the Indians. The mat team, made up mostly of juniors, should be very good in next year's events.

None of the city teams was any match for the out-of-town schools as Cheney and Mead dominated the league this year.

Senior Songleaders

A slumber party in the latter part of August topped the events for the songleaders of 1960.

This little get-together and practice session was held at the home of Gerry Featherly. Practice makes perfect, but the morning after, the girls found out they had overdone it just a bit.

By the time the first football game rolled around in September, the girls were all ready to cheer the team on to victory. Chairmen for the fall were Georganne Jackman much too soon. To end the songleading season, Terry Palmer, spring chairman, had a dinner for the girls at her home the evening of the last basketball game. This was the final event of the many memorable occasions for the songleaders.

Pert Color Guard, Susan Nelson, steps high as she readies for her trip to the Apple Blossom Festival in Wenatchee.

"Carry on Red and Black," sing the songleaders as they lead North Central through another year of pep and enthusiasm. These hardworking girls are the essence of school spirit.

To be a songleader takes much get-up-and-go and is an honor. For this reason, tryouts are held the first semester of each year for all sophomore girls. From these, ten or eleven are chosen to be members of the songleading class the second semester.

School songs and yells are taught to the girls in this class by the veteran songleaders. During the spring semester five girls, judged on their cheering ability, participation in the physical education department, spirit, pep and personality, are chosen to be songleaders for the next two years. Those who do not make songleader automatically become Red Feathers, an equally important honor.

and Color Guards

Color Guard is a name which stands out among the groups formed for support of North Central. Tryouts for this position are held among the junior Red Feathers in the spring.

On the basis of their height, marching ability and over-all participation in Red Feathers, two girls are chosen. These, together with the two boys who also serve as color guards, lead the marching units in parades and stunts.

The Color Guards' uniforms are unique in that they are dressed in snappy red jackets and bright white pleated skirts. Their accessories include red hats with a white plume and white marching boots.

Heading the Red Feathers are the officers including chairman, secretary, historian and two sergeants at arms. It is the job of the chairman to keep the girls well informed on their responsibilities and activities.

Fifth row: Bev Chrysler, Sarah Duke, Annette Van Dyke, Donna Jacobsen, Mary Galt, Carole Peterson, Carolyn Bursch, Pat Callahan, Marilyn Nyberg.

Sparkling white uniforms with red trim are the most distinctive characteristics of the Red Feathers. This organized cheering section has been in existence for over twenty years and is the backbone at North Central's sporting events.

Much work goes into making the Red Feathers the distinctive marching unit which they are. Many a girl can remember the long early morning and afternoon practices in the fall as they make ready for the Merry-Go-Round game. Each girl has found this work well worth the trouble as they carry the North Central tradition on and on.

Tryouts for this outstanding group are held for junior and senior girls twice each year. Members are chosen for marching and dancing ability, grade average and participation in the physical education department activities. The girls are chosen by Miss Barbara Simpson, Red Feather director, and the Red Feather officers.

Each year football and spring sports princesses are chosen from among the Red Feathers. They are nominated by the girls themselves, and the student body has the final vote. The winners are awarded traditional Indian bracelets.

The marching ability of this group is demonstrated in stunts and parades in which it participates. The Red Feathers are widely known and have attained a fame of their own throughout the years.

Besides performing as a marching unit and cheering at games the girls also participate in fund raising, charitable projects, and promote ticket sales. School spirit is a quality which is cherished and kept alive by each of these girls as they give their all for the Red and Black.

Color

Each semester five girls elected by popular vote comprise the officers of Color Girls. The chairman presides over all meetings and sees that all committees run smoothly. The secretary records the minutes of all meetings; the historian keeps an accurate record of all Color Girl activities in a scrapbook, and the two sergeants at arms hold order at all Color Girl functions.

Girls enrolled in the athletic program are eligible to work toward meriting all-activity shields. A total of 500 points earned by active participation in the field of physical education must be earned for the shield, with 500 additional points for each of the black stars and one gold star. Honorable mention is awarded girls holding 2,000 points or over.

ment is to promote sportsmanship, physical fitness and good standards of health. There is also a tremendous carry-over value for leisure in this department. Girls are taught just how important a healthy, clean body is in forming and preserving keenness of mind.

Completing her first year as head of the girls' physical education department and director of Red Feathers, Miss Barbara Simpson has had a busy schedule this season. She is assisted by Mrs. Joan Voligny, who heads the Color Girls.

Courses in tumbling, volleyball, basketball, softball, badminton, tennis, golf, paddleminton and swimming highlight the activities of girls enrolled in regular physical education courses. Also undertaken in these classes are techniques of marching, rhythms and calisthenics.

She promotes the sale of tickets for athletic events, partakes in fund-raising and charitable projects, ushers at many school functions and participates in football half-time stunts and parades.

class. They are judged on their marching and dancing ability, on the basis of attendance, health, co-operation in school activities and good citizenship, by the director, Mrs. Joan Voligny, and the Color Girl officers. Tryouts are held each semester, along with the election of Color Girl officers. Girls recommended by their principal from a previous school are received directly into the organization.

Color Girls did a solo half-time stunt on the home field during the victorious football season.

A new demerit system was introduced this season whereby any girl who broke established regulations would be dropped.

The organization holds a banquet each semester to introduce new members and install new officers. The January banquet this year was headed by Vicki Benn, Lois Ellis and Connie McSpadden.

Badminton

Will Gerry Skewis hit the birdie? Sandy Gallemore prepares to give her another point.

Spank that birdie!

This year because of the tremendous turnout and enthusiasm for badminton, it was divided into three different divisions: Junior-senior doubles, freshman-sophomore doubles and junior-senior singles. There were no freshman-sophomore singles because their doubles started so late in the year.

The team of Julie Warfield-Janice Baker defeated the Linda Ayers-Terry Palmer combination to win the junior-senior doubles crown.

For the second consecutive year Janice Baker and Sherry Hindman have battled it out in the junior-senior singles. It was a fight to the finish with Janice emerging as the victor.

The freshman-sophomore badminton doubles began with the second semester, Monday through Thursday mornings.

BASKETBALL—First row: Sherry Bledsoe, Lynn Materne, Marilyn Edmunds, Pat Belair, Gerrie Skewis, Janice Baker, Sheila Bayley, Nancy Cauvel, Georgiana Bertholf. Come on Red!

After school during February and the first part of March in the old gym it was basketball time again. Over one hundred girls were divided into ten teams with six of the teams playing on Tuesday nights and four teams battling it out on Wednesday nights.

Janice Baker's team, consisting of sophomore and junior girls, won the Tuesday basketball battles and ended up the round-robin tournament by defeating the Wednesday night victors, Lynne Materne's all-frosh team.

An added event this year was the invitational tournament at Rogers. Six schools sent their best eighth and ninth graders for the age classed games. North Central's freshmen defeated all. In the sophomore tournament NC's girls skimmed by the Rogers team 28-26 to capture the championship.

Basketball

Janice Baker goes up for lay-in shot after receiving ball from Gerrie Skewis while Velda Smith and Pat Belair guard.

Gerrie Skewis and Vicki Benn hit the ball over the net as Sharon Cook, Faye Romig and Pat Belair look on.

Volleyball

More than one hundred enthusiastic girls turned out for the annual volleyball tournament, which extended from November through December.

Surprisingly enough, the winning team of the two-month tourney this year was completely composed of freshmen girls, headed by Sharon Cook.

The volleyball events were held after school on Tuesdays and Wednesdays in the old gym. Mrs. Voligny supervised the Tuesday games and Miss Simpson, those on Wednesday. A total of six teams participated on these nights and to qualify for the tourney, each had to turn out five times plus one championship game. Two practice sessions were held before the tourneys were scheduled to familiarize the girls with advanced techniques of volleyball.

Points were awarded toward all-activity shields for those who took part in the after-school sport.

To the tune of "Take Me Out to the Ball Game!" teams of girls' softball enthusiasts turned out to play a single round robin of five games in the warm spring sunshine. The teams were coached by Miss Simpson, department head, and met at 7:50 a.m., playing until 8:15 a.m. Kennedy field was the setting for the annual softball tournament at which girls were taught useful techniques of the sport and to umpire their own games.

An annual intramural track meet was held in May for girls interested in this sport. The events in which they could participate included the relay race, 50 and 75-yard dashes, shot-put, broad and high jumps, 200 and 370-yard dashes, and baseball and basketball throws for distance.

Carole Hay is prepared to catch the ball, but Lennie Husen gets a hit that is sure to be a home run.

Softball

Third row: Kerine Anderson, Kay Turnley, Gordia Berglan, Vickie McKenzie, Nancy Luce, Linda Ayers, Terry Palmer, Cleosa Wilkerson, Linda Headstrom, Faye Romig.

Golf

Will the ball go in? Georganne Jackman certainly hopes it will as she putts in good form.

"Fore!" was a familiar word when the North Central girls' golf team with a huge class of beginners took their places on the fairways and greens of Spokane's three municipal golf courses.

Although the team was composed of only eight girls, captained by Florence Waller in the fall, the spring group boasted 33 enthusiastic girls with Sherian Thompson as captain. Fall golfers received lessons from Jim Shriver, professional at Indian Canyon. During the winter months, Neil Christian of Esmeralda golf course demonstrated techniques of golf at High Bridge indoor recreational center. Spring team members played the season at Downriver where they were instructed by Joe Durgan.

Featured this year were tournaments with LC, SP and Rogers, plus a mixed two-ball tournament with the boys.

Tennis

Rain, rain, rain! "Oh, will those clouds never dry up and blow away?"

This was the repeated wish of the girls' tennis team for the fall semester. Despite the rain, the girls placed third in the all-city tennis tournament.

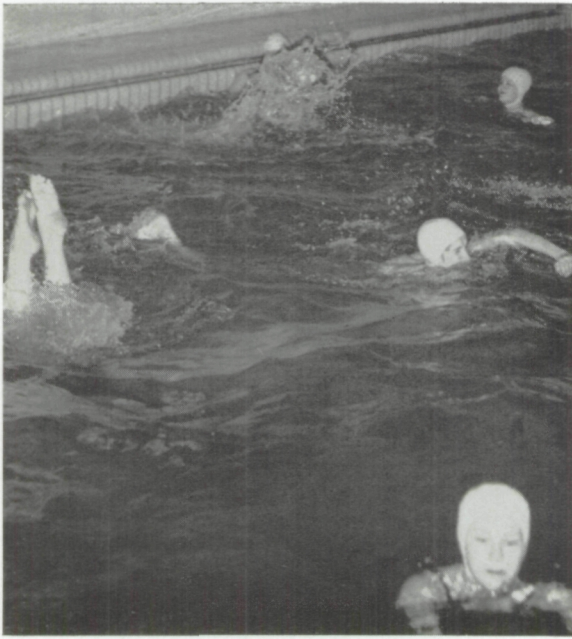

Fall semester cocaptains were Christy Fackenthall and Nancy Frank. Janice Baker, senior member of the team, won the All-City Girls' Singles in Spokane and was presented the Elsa M. Pinkham trophy.

Starting off the spring practices in March, the weather looked promising for a good spring season. The girls practiced Monday and Wednesday sixth period and after school until 4:30 p.m.

Captain of the spring team was Ginger Eacho, with Janet Piper and Judy Reuss co-managing the team.

An awed expression covers Nancy Frank's face as she awaits a serve.

After-school swim looks like fun, huh?

Swimming

One of the most eagerly awaited classes each fall at North Central is the after-school girls' swim.

Encouraging all girls to become not only better swimmers but also to become more aware of the healthful body-building aspects of swimming as a physical activity is the goal of after-school swim.

Girls in this class may pass tests for the Red Cross beginner's, intermediate, swimmer's, junior life-saving and senior life-saving certificates. Water-safety and life-saving skills are emphasized for all who attend with the hope that more knowledge will prevent the annual toll of deaths from needless swimming accidents.

Gym make-ups and all-activity points are also awarded to members who are regular in attendance.

To many, however, who have already passed their tests this is a time for the pure pleasure that this sport gives to a participant.

Flashing blades on a shimmering rink of ice, with a few sudden flops was the skating environment that existed during the winter months of November through March at North Central's skating classes, held at the Coliseum.

This group was composed of some better skaters with a few intermediates and the usual yearly beginners. Dancing, school figures and free skating were the three divisions of skating in which the students participated.

Fundamental figures gave the beginners as well as the intermediate boys and girls more accurate balance and a smoother stroke for dancing and free skating.

Mrs. Joan Voligny, a beginner in this slippery field herself, enjoyed working with the group as adviser.

Perfect form is exhibited by Sharon LaFlam in a spiral position.

The first part of the paper discusses the importance of understanding the cultural context of the research. It highlights the need for researchers to be sensitive to the values and beliefs of the communities they are studying. This is particularly important in the field of health research, where cultural differences can significantly impact the effectiveness of interventions.

The second part of the paper focuses on the methodology used in the study. It describes the process of selecting participants and the various data collection methods employed. The authors emphasize the importance of using a mix of qualitative and quantitative methods to gain a comprehensive understanding of the research topic.

The third part of the paper presents the findings of the study. It discusses the results of the data analysis and how they relate to the research objectives. The authors provide a detailed account of the challenges they faced during the research process and how they overcame them.

The final part of the paper offers conclusions and recommendations for future research. It suggests ways in which the findings of the study can be applied in practice and identifies areas that need further exploration.
